Help Your Email Subscribers Reach You Inside of Gmail

Dear Internet Friend,

In case you didn't already know it, a huge demand on email servers exists in the internet space: Gmail, Yahoo Mail, etc.

They're swamped with all kinds of UNWANTED email messages thus, in order to continue providing a great service, they're forced to use rigorous filtering protocols to implement all kind of unimaginable things including, sending emails that aren't SPAM, to their Spam folder.

It can be frustrating at times, but nearly everyone uses Gmail so in order to ensure that your subscribers get into your inbox, we've put together what we call a
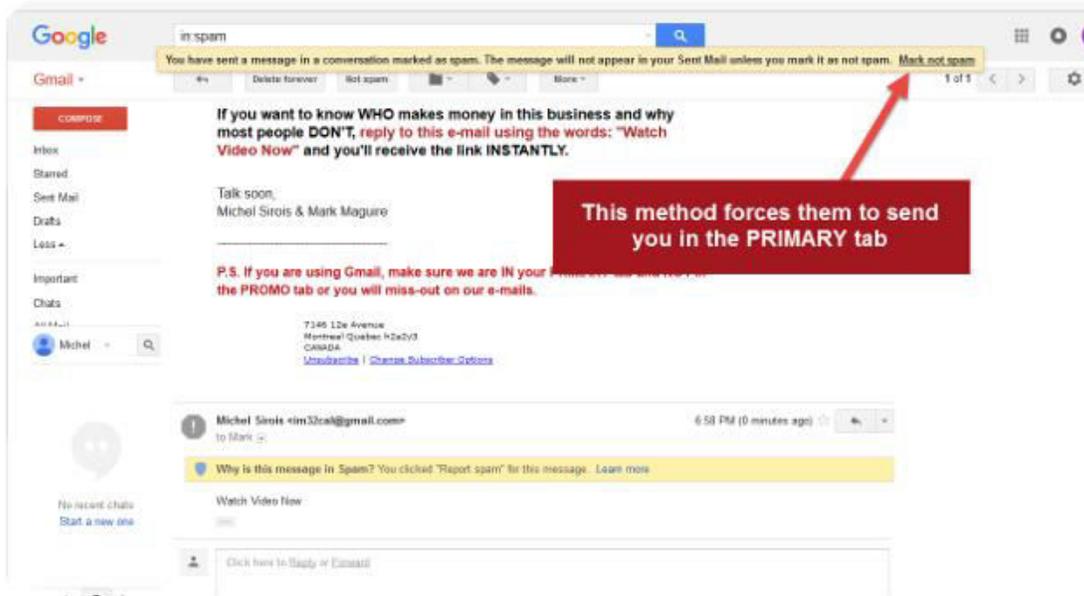

Gmail Canned Responses report to help you get better inboxing and subsequently, more subscribers, and sales. ..... Hope it makes a difference in your marketing.

THE METHOD:

First of all, the straight-up truth is that nearly everyone, particularly, those of us who work in the "Make Money Online" niche, ends up in our subscribers' SPAM folders.

As a consequence, unfortunately, the email services LITERALLY force email senders to MANUALLY UN-SPAM us from their SPAM box…

The method I'm about to show you will trigger the unwanted yellow bar (shown in the image below) to appear in Gmail, to subscribers who use Gmail.

This will force your subscribers to remove you from their SPAM box and add you to their "PRIMARY" tab.

When they do, they'll receive your e-mail messages at last…

The idea here is to simply get users to REPLY to your "Welcome" e-mail message in order to "whitelist" your email address.

If you set-up your "Canned Responses" in Gmail, you'll definitively start INBOXING if you follow the method explained in this PDF.
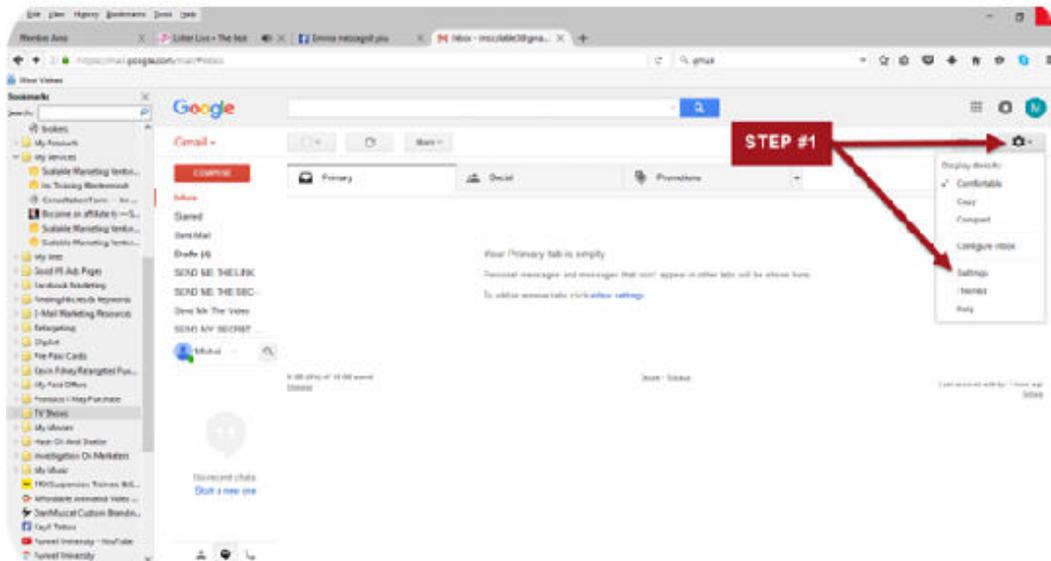

So let's begin…

First of all, you'll need to be logged-in your own Gmail account to do this. If you don't have one, open it now, it's free: https://mail.google.com
STEP #1:

Drop the side menu within your Gmail account and click on: "Settings".

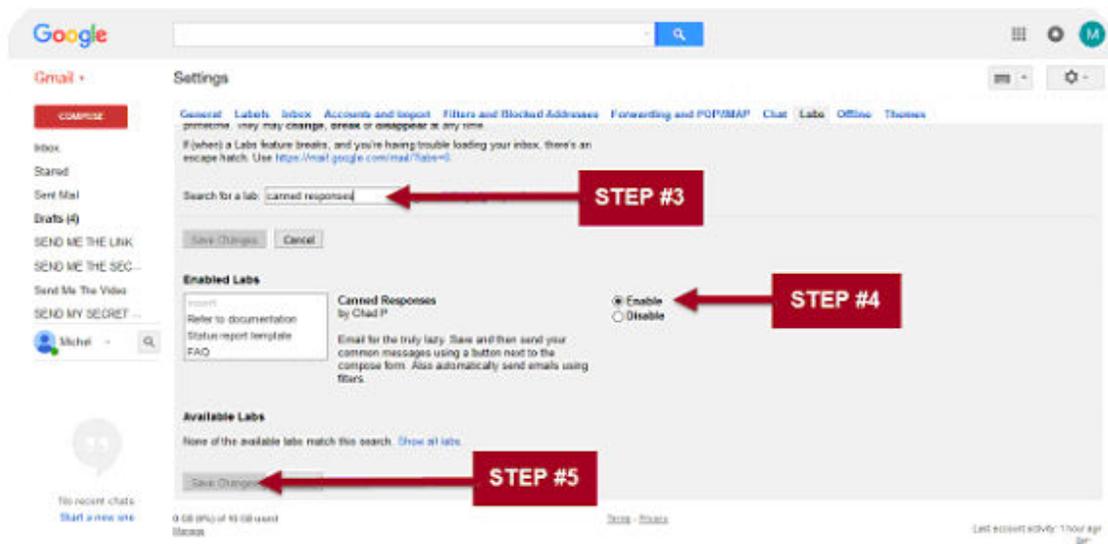

STEP #2:

Click on: "LABS"

STEP #3: In the "Search for a lab" tab, type: "Canned Responses".

STEP #4: Click on: "Enable"

STEP #5: Click on: "Save Changes"

S
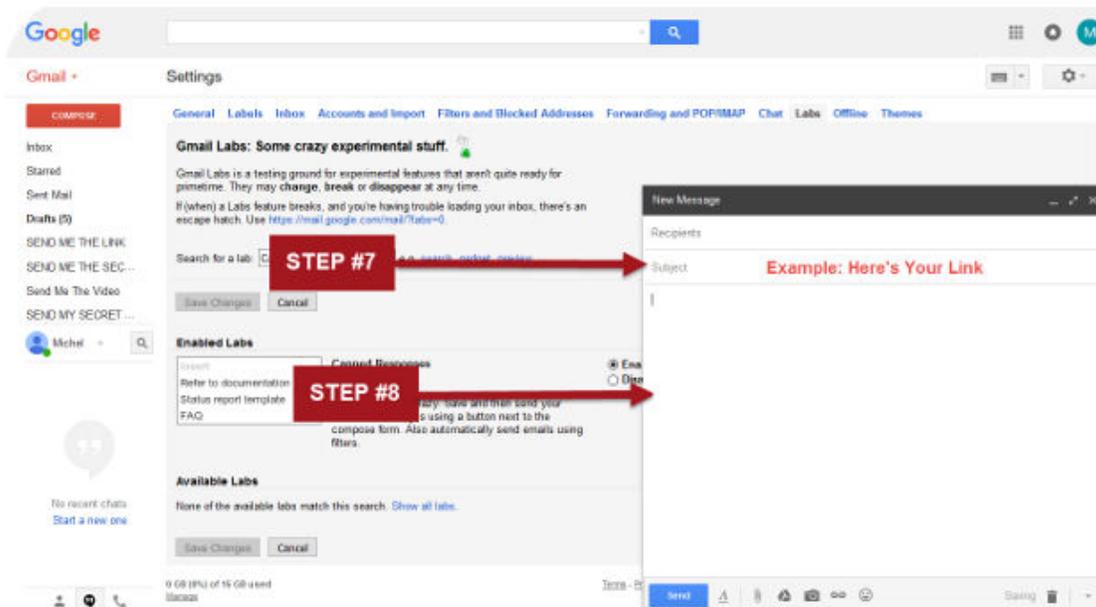

TEP #6: Click on: "Compose""

STEP #7: Add a subject that reflects the freebie they'll get.

STEP #8: You have to write 1 sentence or 2. It doesn't matter what you write because no one will see this auto-reply message.
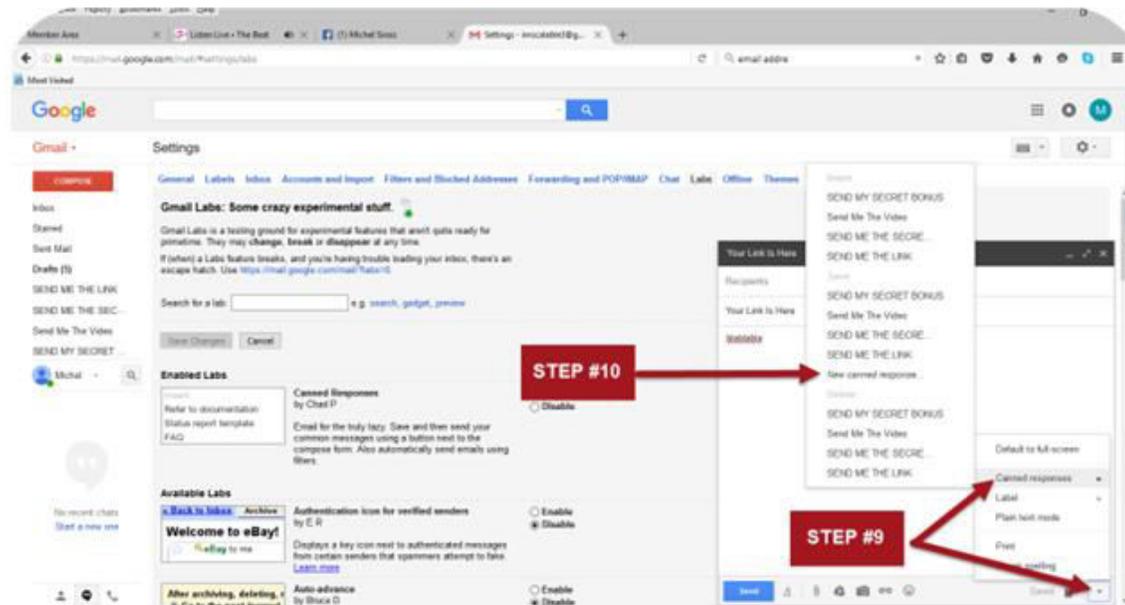

I'll show you later how to reply to them when they reply to you…

For now, just keep following instructions… It will start making sense as you go through the set-up...

STEP #9: Open the little tab and click on: Canned Responses

STEP #10: Click on: "New Caned Response"
STEP #11: Give your canned response a name.
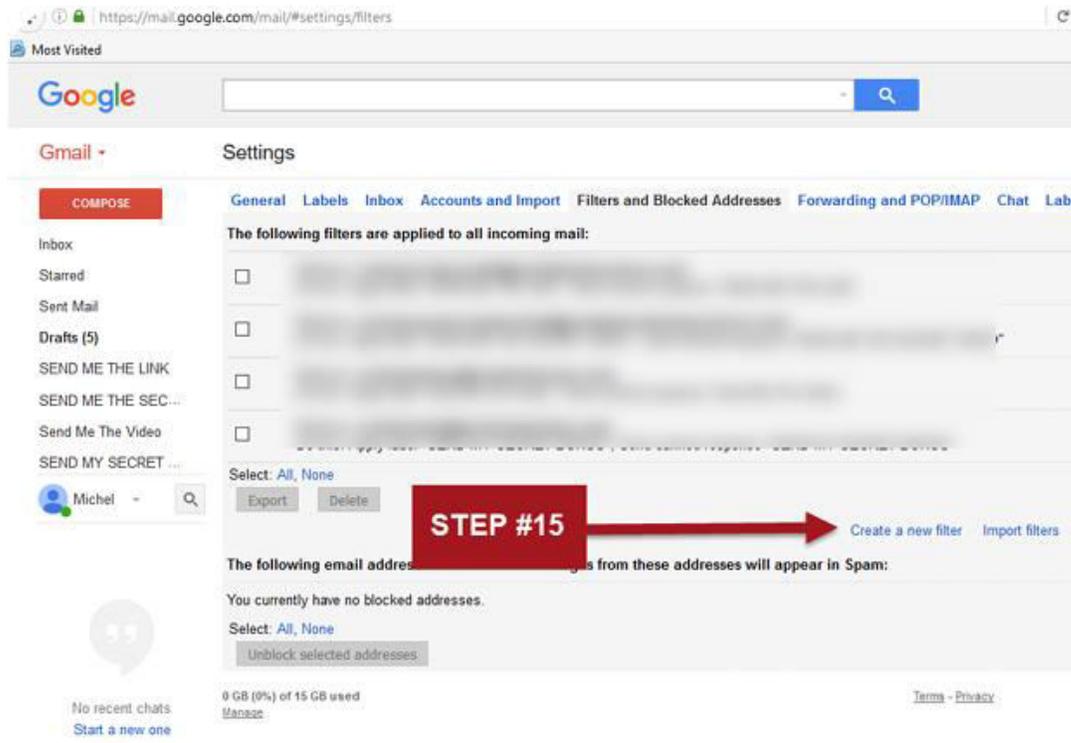

STEP #12: Click on: "OK"

STEP #13: Open the drop-down button and click on: "Settings"

STEP #14: Click on: "Filters And Blocked Addresses"

STEP #15: Click on: "Create a new filter"

STEP #16: Add the same "From E-Mail" address you use to your auto-responder…

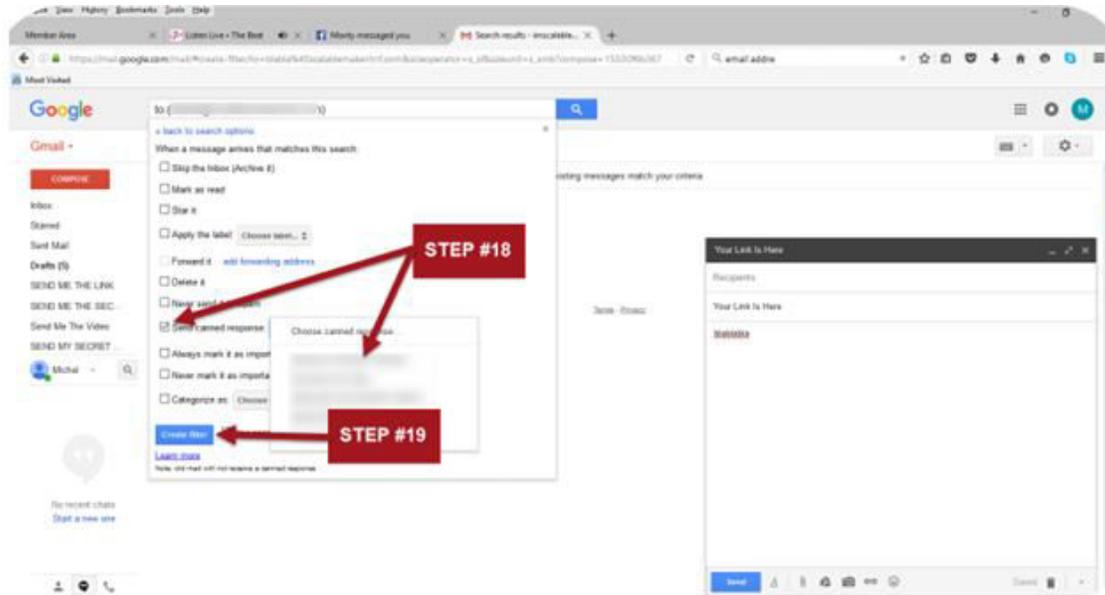

STEP #17: Click on: "Create filter with this search"

Example: what-ever@your-domain-is.com

STEP #18: Add a check mark in the check box named: "Send canned Response" and select your message.

STEP #19: Click on: "Create Filter".

If you do all of the above correctly, you'd see your canned responses appear in the SETTINGS section.

Please… also leave the draft messages in your inbox. Never delete hem.

OK, we're done working on your Gmail account.

The next and final step:

STEP #20

Back to your auto-responder. Log-in to your auto-responder… I'll be using Aweber in the following example:

What you see above is my "Welcome" e-mail message when people opt-in my list. And within my message, I encourage them to get a "freebie" if they reply to my message.

It can be anything you want to promote or giveaway… They think I'm being generous when all I want is for them to "whitelist" me.

Over time… more and more people will "Whitelist" me, my messages will end-up in my Gmail subscribers "Primary" tab and I make more money than ever.

What do you do when subscribers reply?

When your subscribers reply, you'll receive messages in your e-mail inbox… your auto-responder's "From E-Mail")
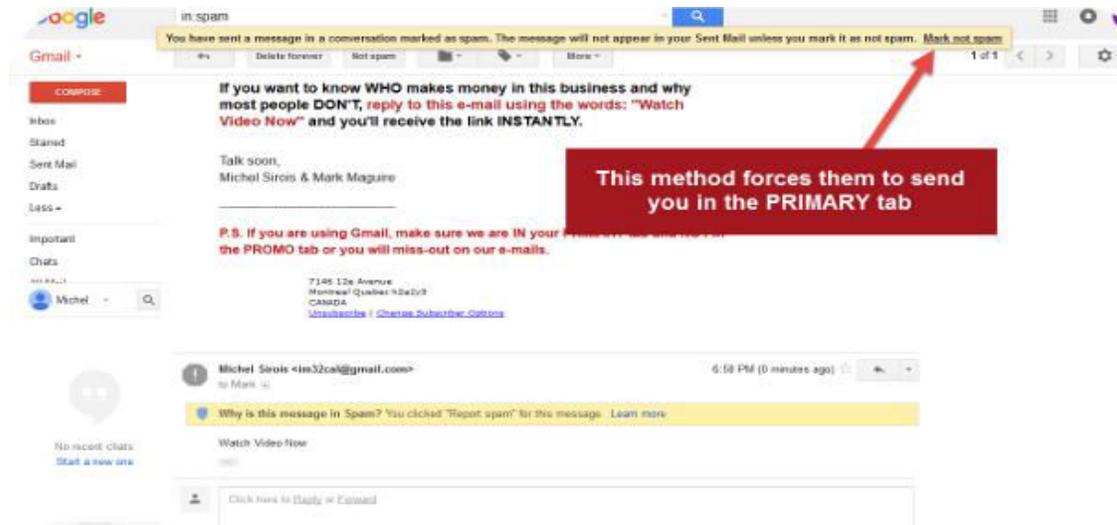

Reply back by sending them a short message with the link you promised them.

You can send them what-ever you wish, that's up to you…

IMPORTANT: Never ignore subscribers who reply to you. The more inter-action you have with them, the more Gmail will evaluate your relationship; of being "Of Mutual Interest".

Why do all of that, and not just ask them to reply? - Because if they were to simply reply, the yellow bar won't appear and you'll stay in their SPAM folder.

This is what makes the difference…

WARNING: The more you ask your subscribers to "Whitelist" you using the "Canned Responses" method, the better your results.

I strongly recommend that you also use this method in your "Follow-Up" messages.

This concludes the Gmail Canned Response Method. Hope it'll make a difference to your marketing.

Disclaimer: The Gmail pages, methods and links may change (or may have changed even while I'm writing this). I have no control over this.

Thank you,

THANK YOU!
